General Data Protection Notice

Hi,

Thanks for visiting my website. I will respond to any questions or request as soon as possible and will send you other information that I think you might be interested in. I promise not to bombard you with news and updates, and feel free to tell me to stop at anytime.

I think it is important that I tell you that I do take your privacy seriously and that I have completed my GDPR compliance processes. This means that I promise to keep your information secure and will not share with anyone except where this is necessary to fulfil my commitments to you or as required by law. I will only store your details for as long as necessary and will dispose of any data securely when no longer required.

I will of course respect your rights under the GDPR ensuring that your information is collected, processed and stored in accordance with data protection laws as defined in the GDPR and all other applicable regulations.

This policy applies to you as a potential customer, customer, employee or in any other relationship. You should take a look at my full privacy policy and feel free to contact me if you have any questions, comments, or requests. I will send you copies of your data, delete, or rectify your data as you request and always act within the rules defined in GDPR.
